Facebook, you never cease to amaze me.

Yesterday, both of my personal #Facebook and #Instagram profiles were intentionally disabled by the world's greatest privacy violator in the history of mankind, AKA Facebook. Why? Because I work for a company called #NSO Group, and according to their statements, they have found and used vulnerabilities in their #WhatsApp architecture, to provide security agencies and governments sophisticated tools to prevent the next 9/11.

Are you serious, Facebook? Are you personally "punishing" past and current company employees? You're acting like a #cyberbully, not a justice seeker. Would you like the US government to take personal actions against your employees for your violations? How would you feel if the wife of that product manager from Menlo Park, would cry all night because she's scared?

I just wonder how well that #Libra project will work once you encounter a transaction you won't be a fan of. Well let me take a guess, you'll take control over our money. One last thing, you've done a pretty terrible job blocking so many false-positives (employees, spouses, friends, etc.), give me a call so I can help you with your link-analysis work. You've got my number.

From the "I honestly cannot even" and "cry me a fcking river" departments: apparently #Facebook is banning/blocking #NSOGroup employees on Fb and Instagram.
